Timber Lands

And Mill Property

FOR SALE.

THE subscriber, desirous of disposing of all his interest in the Timber Lands and mills, will sell on favorable terms the following:

One-Half Township No. 5, Range 4, Oxford County.

The whole township contains twenty-six thousand (26,000) acres, heavily timbered with spruce, estimated at sixty to eighty millions, all of which stands within near and easy hauling distance of the Androscoggin river or its branches, which runs through the town, or Parmachenee Lake, which is situated within its limits.

Also 16,000 Acres of Land in the Town of Byron, Oxford Co., well covered with large Spruce timber. Swift River and its branches run through these lands and empty into the Androscoggin below Rumford Falls.

Also 1100 Acres Timber and Wood Land in the Town of Gorham, N. H.

Two miles above the Alpine House, on the line of the Grand Trunk Railroad, and the banks of the Androscoggin river. There is a large quantity of wood on these lots which, from its proximity to the Railroad, is especially increasing in value.

Also 2500 Acres Lands in the Towns of Albany and Stoneham.

Near the village of North Waterford, Oxford County. This land is covered with thrifty sapling growth timber, standing near the Crooked River, which runs through the tract. Logs put into Crooked River can be run to Sacarappa, or by hauling four to five miles they can be put into Stone Pond, which is a good mill privilege, with a single saw mill on the road. Stone pond is situated only about one mile from the Railroad at Harrison Station, ten miles; to the railroad at Sebago Lake twelve miles. The land is valuable for bottling purposes, being of excellent timber.

Also 436 Shares of Stock in the Lewiston Steam Mill Company, the whole capital stock being represented by 627 shares. The property of the company consists of a Steam Saw Mill, capable of manufacturing five millions of long lumber, with a proportionate amount of clapboards, shingles and laths. About fifteen acres of land in the city of Lewiston, well located for building purposes, and thirty thousand acres of timber land, with location on the Androscoggin river and its branches, from which but a small quantity of the same has been cut.

public to understand that it is not a strictly charitable act when they can get infamous scamps for anything they please to give. But with another class there is precarious honesty added. One night I was attracted by some music at a corner in Chatham street, the busy Jew quarter down town, which drew a crowd of old and young. A nearer approach showed me the attraction to them was the blindness of the player, which was also apparently to render his face repulsive to look upon. Yet there lacked that pitiful expression which always makes your heart go out towards the blind. There was a "lingering doubt" of the man's integrity. By and by, as it grew dark, he emptied his change-box into his pocket, in a truly bungling manner as it was becoming to a blind man; shouldered his organ, and walked off down the crowded street, crossed the street where carsand carts were dangerously close; never stumbled on pavement or curb-stone, and in fact walked a good deal straighter than the average New Yorker since the excise law has been modified. He was a defaulter to the generous public for a liberal amount!

To live here is to be a skeptic. How can you look upon such specimens and judge them as anything but hollow and false in generals? And this leads to another disagreeable fact.—It is well known, everywhere that too many of those who go about with hand-organs in soldiers' coats are not soldiers. But that would be little objection to giving to the one-armed class were it not that, as is asserted, all these hanging coat-sleeves are not necessarily empty; in fact, outrageous as it may seem, sometimes the arm is dexterously inclosed inside the loose clothing.

But amongst all this fraud, in the classes whose existence is an enigma, there is some real industry and merit. How many men and women there are who work until toll fifteen hours a day, for a sum that a farmer would not look at! The rag pickers; the men who go about putting in glass and patching sash; the women who peddle hot corn meal fry cakes on the street corners, and the people who like the scores of other out door irregular work, labor for bare existence. Almost literally they live on hope—hope that, by chance, not by industry, in which they have little faith beyond the possibility of a crust of bread, that they may some day arrive at ease and opulence. They live in New York suffering privations which any where else would be unbearable, rather than to go where life would be easier if labor would not be more remunerative.

And this is the secret of the corruption of the metropolis, and it explains the lawless violence by which decent people are so much and so often outraged. The people of the lower sections of New York are not citizens; they are cattle to drudge for a lunch at noonday and a chance for something to keep them through the night. They are waiting for some unseen, unknown opportunity to bring them to the surface of the pool. They have nothing to lose, and therefore hail every disturbance as offering a vague prospect for a change in which they can but profit. From this class spring the generations of vicious villains who follow the poverty of their parents with riotous lives. They go to the polls to vote in the interests of vice, and their choice of vices is affected by bribery; they knock down and shoot policemen who attempt to check their villainy; they waylay unarmed men as surely as they mark them; they give the tone of ruffianism even to better classes of people, and lay the foundation for the safe establishment of more polished vice. They are, in short, the ground-work, the constituency, the muscles of the reeking corruption which, but for this undercurrent to bear it on, would be wrecked in its career of poisoning the best society.

In another letter I will endeavor to give you an idea of the manner in which the poorer class of people live, which will show more clearly the source of that boastfulness which to so great an extent, characterizes the great centres of mankind.

Before closing let me say that we are reminded of the advent of summer by the appearance of fruit. Peaches have come! I saw some at two elegant fruit stands, and priced them. I have entered into a little calculation based on the reply to my query. I suppose a Yankee boy should (naturally) go along and select peaches enough to fill the proverbial Yankee boy's pockets, which, should guess, would be a dozen; he would just as naturally drop them into his receptacles before drawing his wallet, and then he might be somewhat astonished to find that that his pockets contained fifteen dollars worth of fruit. "These are one-dollar-and-twenty-five-cents-each," said the dealer, "ought to get a quarter more, but they are falling. These little ones are only a dollar." And yet he says they sell a great many of them. If I hadn't told you of this in this letter I should have lost the opportunity. Next week they will fall in prices, and keep falling, day by day, till August, when we can buy the same quality for one cent each, which is an object. So we console ourselves with the reflection that the day is coming when we can revenge ourselves upon that fruit dealer by making him handle over one hundred and twenty peaches for the same profit that he now gets on one. The commentary of the little boy to a companion, who stood by looking wistfully at the peaches in their glass case, was, however, much more philosophical than any I can offer. Said he, "I wouldn't eat 'em any how, Bill, for it's most cholery time."

WALTON.

BRIGHTON, Mass., RACES. The first meeting in the New Beacon Park, under the auspices of the Beacon Park Association, began Tuesday with a trot open to horses that have never beaten 3 minutes. Owing to a drizzling rain which prevailed previous to and during the race, the attendance was small.—There were eight entries for the race, but only five started as follows: Robert Bonner, Lady Emily, Rolls Goldsmith, Daylight and Chancy Green. Honest Dutchman, to whom the race had been conceded, was withdrawn on account of an injury received in attempting the first start. The race was won by Chancy Green in three straight heats, although closely pressed in the second by Lady Emily. Time, 2:36, 2:40, 2:39½. Goldsmith was distanced on the first heat, Bonner on the second, and Daylight on the third. The purses were $1,000, $700 and $300. A race which was to have taken place between horses that have never beaten 2:24 was postponed on account of the weather and the condition of the track. Nearly all the celebrated trotters in the United States will appear during the week, including Goldsmith Maid, Lady Thorne, American Girl and Geo. Palmer, and it is thought by many that the fastest time on record may be reduced.

There were 25 bidders for the government gold sold in New York Wednesday morning. The total bid was $3,080,000, at from 112 41-100 to 113 81-100. The awards were from 113 7,00 to 113 801100.

THURSDAY, JUNE 9, 1870.

The New York Sun publishes a letter from Brownsville, Texas, detailing the project of the filibustering expedition against the Mexican States between the mountains of Sierra Madre and the Gulf, with Gen. Rosecrans in command. The letter states that an understanding exists which will establish a government, with Gen. Rosecrans at the head, and ultimately to be turned over to the United States government—all of which is to be taken with due allowance.

Wolff, Continental Telegraphic Company of Berlin, with sub-agencies in all the principal cities in Europe knows nothing about any recent disturbances in Roumania. The manager of that company declares the telegram to Cremieux to be an exaggeration, and says that all the reports concerning the slaughter or banishment of the Roumanian Jews are baseless. Diligent inquiry in the continent fails to discover any foundation for the terrible stories which have been published.

A Manchester, N. H., dispatch states that in Wednesday's session of the Supreme Judicial Court, Judge Smith delivered the opinion of the Court on the famous Concord-Railroad Conductor's cases vs. George Clough. At a former session, the Court refused to set aside the sum absolutely awarded by the referees, between $6,000 and $8,000, on the ground that the Superintendent had no right to make a raid without the consent of the Directors and with the understanding that it be concealed from them; that acting under such a rule was a fraud and evasion; that the practice of taking money in the cars, and instead of making a return of the same to the proper officers, purchasing tickets and mutilating them, did not operate in the line for payment, either morally or legally; nor was there reason why a train should be made from a plain principle of law in this case. The next award of $2,000, on the profits made by sales of Western tickets, was also sustained, on the ground that he was assisting on the Company's business in taking profits belonging to it. The Court found for the Railroad corporation on all points.

BANGOR AND PISCATAQUIS RAILROAD

STOCKHOLDERS' ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of this corporation was convened at City Hall, at 11 o'clock a. m. yesterday.

Hon. Isaiah Stetson, President in the chair.

The President read the Directors annual report, and the Superintendent's report.

Hon. S. D. Thurston, Treasurer, presented and read the report of the financial condition of the company.

Reports accepted.

In reply to an inquiry of A. M. Robinson, Esq., of Dover, the Treasurer stated that the Directors had never been responsible for the liabilities of the Company, except for the duties on iron, to the amount of $56,000 in gold. Of this sum all but $2,500 74 had been paid. About 30,000 were saved by the delay in payment of these duties on account of the appreciation of the currency. This sum exceeds the entire salaries of officers, travelling expenses, office rent, office furniture, safe and books during the three years, beginning June 1st, 1867, showing that the Directors have managed the business without cost to the company.

On motion of A. M. Robinson, Esq.,

Voted, That the reports of the Directors, Treasurer and Superintendent be published in the Bangor Daily Whig and Courier, Piscataquis Observer and Bangor Democrat, and recorded the books of the company.

In reply to inquiries of Dr. Ladd, it was stated by the Treasurer and Superintendent that there is about $30,000 worth of iron on hand, about half of which is needed to lay side tracks, for repairs, &c.

Hon. Henry F. Prentiss stated that, as representative of the city stockholders he had received instructions to oppose the election of new directors until such time as the settlement of the matters with the contractors may be decided. These Directors were conversant with the entire affair at issue, and are consequently better prepared to conduct the business.

On motion of P. Kinsley, Esq., a committee on nominations was appointed by the chair, as follows:

T. N. Ecery,	A. G. Lobroke,
S. F. Humphrey,	Franklin Muzzy,
A. M. Robinson,	J. C. White,
Moses Giddings,	John E. Godfrey,
	Thomas Hersey.

Adjourned to 2 o'clock p. m.

AFTERNOON.

The President in the chair.

Hon. Henry F. Prentiss, chairman of the nominating committee, reported the same Board of Directors as last year, except F. B. Foster, Esq., of this city, who declined re-election, N. G. Ayer, Esq., of city was appointed in his place. This nomination was concurred in by the Board of Aldermen.

The report was accepted, and the Board of Directors as follows:

Isaiah Stetson,	George W. Ladd,
Franklin Muzzy,	Moses Giddings,
Josiah W. Palmer,	N. G. Ayer,
Charles Hayward,	A. M. Robinson,
F. Wilson,	Chas. E. Kimball,
	J. B. Mayo.

was duly elected.

It will be remembered that Hon. A. G. Wakefield and Joseph Tanoy were recently elected City Directors.

Hon. Isaiah Stetson remarked that had the Road been in a condition enabling it to run itself, he should have declined re-election.—He believed the city, as the largest stockholder, should devise means for its completion.—Being the party holding the greatest interest, and liable to the greatest loss from delay, it is certainly called upon by every principle of true economy to complete the work and render its investment productive. He believed that the citizens of Bangor would put aside all unworthy consideration, and, consulting their own interests, vote the credit needed.

Hon. Henry F. Prentiss, as the representative of the city, said he had received no instructions as to any specific plan. Several propositions are made by private parties.—Most of them are offers to purchase the road. He was opposed to selling the stock upon any of the proposed terms. True, the city of Bangor has a perfect right to sell its stock just the same as any other stockholder, but then there is a principle of honor and generosity involved which we should not violate. We cannot afford to do so. This is the only road the city has ever undertaken to build, and it is our duty to complete it man-fashion. (applause.) We have recently tried to obtain the credit of the city for means to do so. That decision was not an expression of the wishes of the city. (applause.) The vote must be respected, and, until the prejudices and passions of men subside there is no cause for calling another election. There may be more acceptable propositions offered. No plan for the purchase of the city stock should be considered, unless it also includes the stock of all the Piscataquis towns upon the same terms and conditions. (applause.)

A. M. Robinson, Esq., visited in the name of his town, to thank the Mayor of Bangor for the firm, manly stand he has taken upon this question. He expressed great confidence in that officer, and believed he would continue other avenues of trade open to that section.—Other parties are constantly making advances. The towns entered into the compact expecting the road to be completed. They took all the stock the Act allows. Now they look to Bangor for the help required to finish the work. Will it be wise for Bangor to refuse?

Hon. A. G. Wakefield was opposed to selling out for any sum that has been offered. The speculators might issue bonds until they are faithless as the leaves. Road, and holders of stock would never receive a dividend until these bonds had been paid. This would totally destroy the value of the stock purchased by present holders. We must act in good faith. When the city subscription was made in had some fears of the investment. They have been dissipated. He now believes the road will pay when completed. (applause.)—In closing his remarks he offered the following:

Resolved, That with a view to hasten the completion of the Bangor & Piscataquis Railroad, and to meet promptly all future liabilities as they have formerly, the company will issue its bonds to the amount of $, as it may be expedient, and that a committee of three be raised to fix the conditions of such bonds and report the same at next adjourned meeting.

Dr. Ladd said he hoped we should not move hastily in this matter. We have not obtained a true expression of the wishes of our citizens. There was, as has been said, some passion in the minds of some. They will think better of the matter soon. If we sell second mortgage bonds the present stockholders should have the refusal of them. There is still another plan. The road earns $2,000 per month.—Expend that in gravelling as far as it will go. If the bridges cannot be covered, they can remain as they are as long as they will stand.—Do the best possible under the circumstances, and the increased business of the road and of the city, will convince our people that they should make the road permanent and not allow it to go to decay.

C. H. Ingalls, Esq., wished to say a word in regard to the sources whence came the opposition to the loan of credit. The vote was not thrown by taxpayers. Of 100 yes, in Ward 3, every man is a taxpayer. Of 60 noes, very few pay more than a poll tax. Some have never been done that and they never will.

Several other plans were offered and discussed.

The President remarked that they all contemplated a temporary loan, the interest of which would be paid by the earnings of the road. If these earnings are applied to this purpose or to gravelling, the company cannot progress. the payment of $6,000 interest every six months, and the city will be compelled to do so. By the recent vote a heavy burden has been imposed upon the city. It was passed in passion. We can only hope it may be reversed.

Mr. Locke of Foxcroft, expressed great confidence in the Directors. He believed with Mr. Honor, that the Mayor that the passions of citizens will be modified in time. Reckoning on the improved prospects of the road, he said a few months since it was currently said that the best plan was to take up the railroad, sell them to the E. & N. A. Railway Company. Now parties are preparing to pay $50,000 for the city stock. He alluded to the feeling that must exist in those towns which entered into what they considered a fraternal compact, should they be sold out by their ally. Piscataquis people know the men who have become wealthy in Hotels and other business, partly upon the business of that valley, and who opposed the lines of credit. Bangor has accumulated wealth,—we have resources. These united will make Bangor a great city in the near future, unless she stands very much in her own light. (applause.)

The resolution offered by Mr. Wakefield was finally passed.

Mr. Robinson offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That a Committee of three be raised to see what means can be devised to, raise money to complete the road.

Passed.

Judge Godfrey offered the following:

Resolved, That in the opinion of the stockholders the net earnings of the road should be expended in completing the same.

Passed.

On motion of Mr. Wakefield,

Voted, That when this meeting adjourns, it shall adjourn to meet at this place, Wednesday, June 15th, at 10 a. m.

Adjourned.

Shaking and Burning.

It is not necessary to journey from the tropics to Alaska in order to experience the extremes of heat and cold. Thousands undergo all this twice within each of the thermometrical changes every day, and perceive the change in the less intense, without the trouble of removing over the threshold. It even will cause involuntary shakers. What are they doing to expedite their return to a medium temperature?—to break the chills and banish the fever? Are they dosing themselves with quinine, thereby imperiling the soundness of their bones and impairing the vigor of their brains and nervous system? Some of these are, of course, but not the majority of them. To all of them Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a boon. The value of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a healthful and certain specific for fever and ague is undisputed and appreciated in all parts of the country where these ailments prevail. The residents of such localities begin to take it early in spring as a protection against the miasma by which they are surrounded, and not infrequently a timely dose or two checks fever in its incipiency, and thus prevents a spell of sickness. Persons, people, look to the genuine article.

It is literally true that in the principalities of the United States Bitters are a far better safeguard against all the varieties of a periodic maladies produced by unwholesome exhalations than any drug or prescription in the whole realm of therapeutics. This statement is made with all due respect to the faculty, but being an important truth, and one that nearly concerns the welfare of large settlements in various parts of the country, and indeed of the public at large, it is made fearlessly, predicated on ample and unimpeachable testimony. It applies to all cases of periodic ague and fevers, in which it is a prompt and efficient remedy, as well as to preventive. This is a wholesome vegetable relaxative.

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION

WASHINGTON, June 8.

SENATE.

Mr. Ferry presented a petition from Mr. Hatch asking the discharge of Gen. Babcock, now acting as U. S. Commissioner for the annexation of San Domingo, because of his (Hatch's) release from prison while undersecretary of state by the Dominican authorities on a charge preferred by Babcock, to hinder him while working in Washington certain objections to ratification of the Dominican treaty. Mr. Ferry moved the reference of the matter to the Com. on Foreign Relations.

Mr Chandler said that Mr. Hatch was a troublesome and worthless scoundrel who, without any sort of authority had given a secret aid to a ship-of-war to leave the port of San Domingo to prejudice upon the Dominican Government. He thought the great mistake of the government was that they had not executed him.

Mr Ferry said that Mr. Hatch was a resident of his own town and that he knew him and would vouch to his honor and integrity as equal to the best man from Michigan.

After considerable discussion the question was postponed, July 1 involving the question of the attempt of an army officer to negotiate a treaty of the United States and for that purpose helping to keep an American in prison.

Mr. Nye objected to the reference of the matter to the Committee on Foreign Relations. In view of, as Mr. Sumner expressed himself, that Gen Babcock should be called to the witness stand and investigate the matter to which he is and [illegible] appointed by the other.

The Vice President in putting the question declined to be relieved from appointing a committee; but several Senators objected.

Mr. Carpenter said he wanted a full investigation by an impartial committee and called the Chairman of Foreign Relations ("The Devil and end all of the committee").

Mr. Sumner defended the committee and himself, and said the case was one of an American citizen, sweltering in a tropical prison, to carry out the machinations of an American officer.

Mr. Patterson denied that Mr. Sumner was the devil, and end all of the Foreign Committee. He said that they were about equally divided upon the San Domingo treaty, two and perhaps three members being favorable to it, and he protested against the imputation.

Mr. Carpenter inquired what injustice had been done Hatch.

Mr. Patterson replied, the remarks of Mr. Carpenter and others in the Committee had determined him upon the Dominican treaty, which was a wood [illegible] concerning it.

A long debate followed, in which Messrs. Sumner and Tipton deprecated an investigation by the Senate [illegible] hauling the President.

Mr Ferry defended his course in presenting the memorial, and said that he had upon the desk a paper showing an absolute reason for asking for an investigation.

Mr Sumner suggested that it be referred to a committee of seven instead of five, which was accepted by Mr. Ferry, and adopted without a division.

Barque [illegible], from [illegible] for [illegible],

Till he couldn't lay rules;
He was smashed by a car
When he carelessly walked in the street
And right on the top of his trouble from home his wife sent five kids from the States.

It was rough—mighty rough;
But the boys they stood to it;
And they brought him the stuff
As I learn, in a day or two.
And the old woman—well, she did what she could, and took on when no one was nigh.

But this for luck of Dow's
Was so powerful mean
That the spring near his house
Dried right up on the spot
And he sunk forty feet down for water, but never a drop to be seen.

Then the bar relented,
And the boys wouldn't stay
And the shilo got soaked,
And his wife fell away;
But Dow, in his well, kept a-joggin' in his usual style,
Hoping some way.

One day—it was June—
And a year ago, you see,
This Dow went as usual
To his work like the best,
With a shovel and pick in his behaviour, and a determined jig in his breast.

He goes to the well
And he stands a little bend,
And stops for a spell
Just to listen and think;
For the sun in its course, you know, this day, you see,
Made towards the cute blink

Its two fiercest rays
In the quickest second part
And a gownd that was Sal's,
Kin let flapped on a limb;
Not much for a man to be leavin', but his all—as I've heard the folks say.

And — that's a pearl hose
That you've got—ain't it now?
What might be her cost?
Eh?—Well then, Dow—
Let's see—well, that forty-foot grave wasn't this, sir, I'm a-doin' anyhow.

For a blow of his pick
Sorter caved in the side,
And he looked into that hole,
Then he trembled and cried,
For you see the dern cuss had struck—Water?—no, but somethin' purdier, young man, than you could tell.

It was gold—in the quartz,
And it ran all along
And I'm done for the dollars
Was the worth of the specific,
And the boss with the cloppleow's hull—which the man Dow's for a Pike

Why it's Dow's Flat;
Nothing of its
To kindle your

For the darned cuss was seekin', and his

So. That's your way
he looks of you see,

"To prevent depredations on the cornfield by the crow, various devices are resorted to. On account of the many fatal accidents resulting of late from the careless handling of fire-arms, this wise bird manages not to be fooling around in the vicinity of the muzzle of the guns when they go off. The hanging to a pole, planted in the cornfield, of a dead crow, is said to act frequently as a good warning to living thieves of that race. The principal objection to the plan is the difficulty of getting a specimen to hang up. A seedy gentleman of straw, arrayed in decayed garments is often stationed on guard over the growing crops, and does well enough for a short time, but the crows are not long in forming his acquaintance and becoming on intimate terms with him. Dudes, however, I saw a crow badly fooled on the thing." One day, Professor Hobbs—who, is generally admired, with rather mature raiment—was, crossing a cornfield, he was suddenly attacked with one of those paralytic strokes of learning on the brain, and as he stood, hat in hand, in the hot sun, hour after hour, pursuing a train of thought on some scientific subject, a crow which had been watching him all the while, finally came to the conclusion that he was a genuine scarecrow, and picking up a dead mouse, which it accidentally came across described a few majestic circles in the air and alighted on professor's head to eat it (the mouse.) Just then the professor came to, and clapping his hat on with a jerk, started for home. Of course there was something of

VEGETINE.

Purely Vegetable.

Nature's Remedy

Scrofula, scrofulous Humors, Cancer, Cancerous Humors, Erysipelas, Canker, Salt Rheum, Pimply and Humorous Skin Diseases, Ulcers, Tumors, Carbuncles, and Cold Bronchitis, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Pain in the Side, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Costiveness, Piles, Headache, Dizziness.

Nervousness, Faintness at the Stomach, Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Female Weaknesses, and

General Debility

Are all cured by the use of VEGETINE. Many of the above diseases originate in the Blood, and in the performance of its functions in the process of Digestion, Assimilation, and Nutrition, which changes the food into the various fluids and tissues of the body. Hence you will see the importance of using a medicine to purify the Blood, such as if you would have health. No medicine can make you well who has Scrofula in the system, and no one can be well while the Blood is impure or the Liver inactive. VEGETINE acts upon the Liver, Stomach, Bowels, Kidneys, Skin, and Blood, and restores them to healthy action. It is the only reliable blood purifier yet discovered.

VEGETINE,
